Description

Overview

The Clamping Studs are heavy-duty fastening components designed for securely mounting strap clamps, mould clamps, fixtures, jigs, and workholding accessories onto machine-tool tables. Their threaded construction provides strong and reliable clamping when used with T-nuts, nuts, washers, and other workholding components.

Common Uses

The Banka Clamping Studs are widely used for securing strap clamps, mould clamps, fixtures, jigs, and workholding accessories on machine tables and machining equipment during milling, drilling, CNC machining, mould making, die manufacturing, and fabrication operations. They are essential workholding components for CNC machining centers, milling machines, drilling machines, machine shops, tool rooms, mould and die workshops, fabrication units, and precision engineering facilities, where strong clamping force, secure positioning, rigid workholding, and reliable fastening performance are essential.
