Features

- Precision-engineered swivel milling vise
- Heavy-duty graded cast iron body
- Precision swivel base for angular positioning
- Hardened and precision-ground jaw plates
- High clamping force for secure workpiece holding

- Precision-ground guideways for smooth jaw movement
- Accurate angle adjustment with locking mechanism
- Wear and corrosion-resistant construction
- Suitable for various workpiece sizes (Model Dependent)
- Designed for continuous industrial use

Description

Overview

The Swivel Milling Vise is a precision workholding accessory designed to securely clamp workpieces while allowing accurate angular positioning during milling, drilling, tapping, grinding, and other machining operations. Its swivel base enables the vise to rotate to the desired angle, providing greater flexibility for machining inclined surfaces and complex components. Manufactured from high-quality graded cast iron with hardened and precision-ground steel components, it offers exceptional rigidity, accuracy, and long service life.

Common Uses

The Banka Swivel Milling Vise is widely used for holding workpieces at precise angles during milling, drilling, tapping, grinding, and machining operations on milling machines and CNC machining centers. It is an essential workholding accessory for tool rooms, production workshops, automotive industries, mold and die shops, fabrication units, maintenance departments, educational institutes, and precision engineering facilities, where accurate angular positioning, rigid clamping, and repeatable machining performance are essential for producing high-quality precision components.
