TOOLS

Side Milling Cutters

The Side Milling Cutters are precision milling tools designed for side milling, slotting, grooving, shoulder milling, and cutting narrow or deep slots in workpieces. Their teeth are arranged on the circumference and sides of the cutter, allowing efficient material removal from both the side and peripheral surfaces.

Features

- Precision-engineered Side Milling Cutter
- Cutting teeth on circumference and sides
- Suitable for side milling and slotting
- HSS / HSS-Co / Carbide construction (Model Dependent)
- Precision-ground cutting edges
- Excellent dimensional accuracy
- Efficient chip evacuation
- High wear resistance
- Available in various diameters and widths (Model Dependent)
- Suitable for conventional and CNC milling

Description

Overview

The Side Milling Cutters are precision milling tools designed for side milling, slotting, grooving, shoulder milling, and cutting narrow or deep slots in workpieces. Their teeth are arranged on the circumference and sides of the cutter, allowing efficient material removal from both the side and peripheral surfaces.

Common Uses

The Banka Side Milling Cutters are widely used for machining slots, grooves, shoulders, keyways, and narrow or deep profiles in steel, cast iron, aluminium, and other suitable engineering materials, depending on the cutter grade and application. They are essential cutting tools for milling machines, CNC machining centers, machine shops, tool rooms, production workshops, automotive industries, and precision engineering facilities, where accurate slot dimensions, efficient material removal, stable cutting, and reliable tool life are essential.
